ALPHA SIGMA LAMBDA HISTORY

In the winter of 1945-46, Dr. Rollin B. Posey, Dean of University College at Northwestern University, realized that a measure of encouragement and recognition accorded an evening student's scholastic achievement at an early stage of his/her program could provide the thrust of desire to achieve his/her educational objectives. Dr. Posey founded a society, Alpha Sigma Lambda, to honor those dedicated adult students who, while adroitly handling their life responsibilities, achieve and maintain high scholastic standards.

Today there are over 300 chartered chapters throughout the United States. The camaraderie, advantages and benefits of Alpha Sigma Lambda are its own best incentive for being a member. The Society not only brings together outstanding students and faculty, but also offers each individual an exposure to interests other than his/her own.

Fitchburg State College congratulates all of the Alpha Sigma Lambda inductees and encourages those interested in finding out more about the honor society to go to www.fsc.edu/gce/alphasigmalambda.cfm.
